LATEST DEVELOPMENTS IN LAW

The U.S. Supreme Court and the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals have been active in promoting a new understanding of correct procedure in several areas. We cover important developments from the last few years, some as recently as earlier this year.

MIRANDA — street rules do not apply when a student suspect in school is being questioned

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION — after several school tragedies, courts are now allowing free exchange of information between schools and law enforcement. In fact, LIABILITY can result if counselors and nurses mistakenly think that they cannot report students due to confidentiality. We explain the process for determining how to proceed and give you forms to use.

NEW TOOLS FOR HANDLING GANGS, WANNABES AND SCHOOL CLIQUES. Gang recruiting is on the rise. School cliques engage in bullying and harassment. Administrators need to know when to involve the School Resource Officer and other police resources.
